Space Travel Comes to Saint Albert

When the Junior and Senior High science students at Saint Albert wanted to learn more about rockets and space travel, they went right to the source . . .

On Wednesday afternoon, representatives from the Strategic Air Command Museum came to Saint Albert to talk to the students about space travel. In the attached photos, students made rockets and then launched them in the parking lot to see whose rocket would go the furthest.

Students also had a chance to ride the Multi-Axis Trainer, which simulates the disorientation you feel in a tumble spin during re-entry into the Earth's atmosphere.

Saint Albert Schools is the only Catholic grade school and K-12 system in the State of Iowa or Nebraska that is both state and regionally accredited. Committed to the teachings of the Catholic Church, the mission of Saint Albert Schools is to foster spiritual, moral, physical and intellectual growth for all students.
